To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter on behalf of the Hopkins County Board of Education in relation to our experiences with M&W Construction Co., and Wesley Wright. M&W has recently completed a sizeable addition to Pride Elementary School, as well as other improvements. I have found this company to be very competent and professional in our dealings with them. Mr. Wright, as well as his staff, possesses a positive attitude in getting things done, which made the company great to work with.

Mr. Kent Withrow, job superintendent for this project, went out of his way to work around our school schedule, so as not to interfere with our students' educational processes. This was no small task, as school was held, uninterrupted, during the entire project. He possesses skills in getting work done, and getting the work done in a quality fashion and on time. I commend him for his hard work and cooperative attitude.

I would, indeed, highly recommend M&W Construction Co as a general contractor for any project, large or small, you may be considering. I would hire them for other projects as they come about.

Sincerely,

To Whom it May Concern:

Wesley Wright and M & W Construction have been familiar to me for the past six years. We have worked on numerous projects with different delivery methods and varying scopes. I have experience with their work on bid projects, negotiated projects and design/build delivery, all with success. Projects have ranged from pre-engineered metal building foundations to complex churches and commercial projects. I have no reservation in recommending Mr. Wright and his company for your project and would gladly field questions if you desire.

Sincerely,

Kevin T. Perry, AIA, LEED AP, CID

To Whom It May Concern:

MSE of Kentucky, Inc. is writing this letter in reference to the M & W Construction Co. who served as the General Contractor for a Speculative Building project in the Sebree South Industrial Park for the Webster County Industrial Development Authority, Webster County, Kentucky. M & W Construction is a quality contractor with a high level of integrity and professionalism.

M & W was very easy to work with; very cooperative with a positive attitude throughout the project. I would recommend M & W Construction Co. and would hire them for future projects.

Sincerely,

MSE of Kentucky, Inc.
